GETTING MUCH MORE DONE IN 2019

Who hasn't heard the story of Charles Schwab and Ivy Lee? Schwab was president of Bethlehem Steel. Lee, a consultant, was given the usual challenge: "Show me a way to get more things done with my time." Schwab agreed to pay him "anything within reason" if Lee's suggestion worked. Lee later handed the executive a sheet of paper with the plan:

"Write down the most important tasks you have to do tomorrow. Number them in order of importance. When you arrive in the morning begin at once on number 1 and stay on it until it is completed. Recheck your priorities and begin on number 2 . . . then number 3. Make this a habit every working day. Pass it on to those under you. Try it as long as you like, then send me your check for what you think it's worth."

That one idea turned Bethlehem Steel Corporation into the biggest independent steel producer in the world within five years.

How much did Schwab pay his consultant? Several weeks after receiving the note, he sent Lee a check for $25,000, admitting it was the most profitable lesson he had ever learned.

The Bible teaches us "to commit our plans to the Lord and He will establish our ways." Try that plan for yourself; it will work. And by the way, you don't need to send me $25,000 for the idea.
